

Shipping Containers?

Korea - Platoon : Arts Theatre

Rhode Island - The Box Office

"There are thousands of empty shipping containers piling up in U.S. ports because of our nation's ongoing trade deficit. Containers offer a timely opportunity to promote green building principles and offer high quality design in an economy that demands affordable options."

"The cargo containers, with a life span of about 20 years when used for their original purpose, have an "infinite life span" when stationary and properly maintained."

Amin Library – Batu, Indonesia

Facility for Ecology Education - Tokyo

Efficient Public Buildings of Taste & Quality?

Equinox Office – Boston, Massachusetts, USA

A signature architectural statement –

A Storytelling Museum & Youth Led Project

A new beginning in Wellington

Sunset Viewing Platform – Incheon, South Korea

Starbucks – Tukwila, Washington, USA